THE SEINE RIVER MINES.

Colonel Hillyer Returns from England With Capital to Work the Alice A.

Mr. Geo. H. Hillyer, son of Colonel Hillyer, who has been in England for the past three years, interesting capital in the Alice A mine, arrived in town last night. Mr. Hillyer says that his father has returned from England, where he was successful in promoting a company to operate the Alice A mine, the famous low grade lode of the Seine River district. The colonel is now in Duluth and is making arrangements for starting operations at the mine, and for the speedy erection of a 100 stamp mill.

Mr. Geo. Hillyer is here in connection with the Foley mine in which he is financially interested, and says that the mine that has lain idle so long will now boom with activity. The new company organized to operate it is known as the Protogene Mining Company.

A SINGLE SCULL TROPHY.

Mr. Louis Cardinal, of the Iroquois, is offering a handsome silver cup for competition between representatives of the Winnipeg and Rat Portage rowing clubs on July 1.

The contest this year will be held in Rat Portage, and next year in Winnipeg. The cup is donated for a single scull contest, and must be won three years in succession before it becomes the property of either of the clubs.
This cup was purchased by Mr. Cardinal last year, but was not competed for.
It is now on exhibition at Ding-wall's. Winnipeg Free Press.

Mr. Hull Austin to Leave.

Mr. Hull Austin, the representative of the Winnipeg Free Press, leaves next week for Port Arthur and Fort William, where will open an office for his firm. The departure of Mr. Austin from Rat Portage is a matter of deep regret to the people of the town, for besides enjoying a large personal popularity, he is without doubt one of the cleverest newspaper men we have ever had here, so that from a business standpoint, the loss of such a live, up-to-date correspondent will leave a vacancy in the ranks of newspaperdom that will be difficult to fill.

RICHARD & PRINGLE'S MINSTRELS

Tomorrow night, Saturday, is the date of Richards & Pringle's Mammoth Minstrel performance at the Hilliard Opera House. Nothing to equal it will be seen here again this season. Fifty royal colored minstrel entertainers appear at every performance and fun runs riot through the entire lengthy programme of varied acts big hits every one of them.

Study this list: The aerial wonder, the great Sheilds; James Moore, the funniest comedian in minstrelsy; the Housley Brothers, emperors of music; Christian, the cycle skater; the military novelty, "The Black Watch Drill"; the Alabama Quartette, in the latest song successes; Kid Langford and Dick Thomas, creative and original comedians; beside an elaborate first part, never equalled in this style of entertainment.

Watch for the big street parade at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon.

OUR MEDICAL MEN.

When the news of the King's illness reached Rat Portage on Tuesday afternoon one of our reporters interviewed Dr. Scovil with the object of finding out the nature of the disease mentioned in the cablegram. Nine persons out of an average ten, or perhaps ninety-nine out of every hundred had never heard of perityphilitis, so that the mere mention of the name could convey no meaning to our readers. The reporter did not mention the source of his information as he knew from years of acquaintance with Dr.
Scovil that he always frowned upon any personal mention in connection with professional matters. Men who are recognized as great in surgery and medicine, whose names are known the world over, are not so modest however: for the five medical men who are in attendance upon the King sign their names to the bulletins and they are cabled all around the world. Dr.
Cyrus Edson, of New York, explained what perityphilitis was, and the associated press sent out his pronuncia-mento to every city in the United States and Canada, and the doctor becomes most likely receiving an enormous fee for his explanation, gets the biggest advertisement of his life. And yet Dr.
Edson spoke only the same words as those uttered in an off-hand manner by Dr. Scovil.

THE TORONTO STRIKE.

The suddenness of the Toronto street learned their lesson, was always an insult to the wage worker, and a foul blot on the nation. In Toronto the presence of the soldiers, was a credit to that city's civic government, to organized labor and to the Board of Trade. The soldiers in this case, were not the hired murderers of the capitalist, as were the armed scoundrels called out by Mr. Carnegie during the Homestead strike, but merely a visible portion of a wise government, a part of the machinery of State. They were impersonal: questioning the motive of neither of the opposing sides, and holding no opinion on the merits of the dispute. They were there to keep order, and therefore could not possibly be antagonistic to any good citizen. Their presence on the streets of Toronto was as natural as the presence of policemen on the streets of Rat Portage, who are feared only by the individualist or anarchist, who insists upon obeying the dictates of his own will instead of the socialistic will —the will of the people as represented in the wise ordinances of the State's statutes.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Dowager Queen of Spain has asked the Pope to select a bride for King Alfonso, and his holiness has now two ladies in view, one an Austrian and the other a Bavarian.
Neither Alf nor the young lady who is to be queen of Spain seem to have any say in the matter, but they are not kicking, which proves conclusively that one can't generally, sometimes, always tell just what is good for him.
Caramba!

While on a visit to Massachusetts the Governor of Arkansas heard many expressions of sympathy for the poor, oppressed negro of the south, and the first thing he did when he got back to his home was to pardon a negro who was convicted of assault with intent to kill, but on condition that he at once repair to Massachusetts and become a citizen of that state. The governor says he desires to give the people of the east an opportunity to reform a certain portion of the negro population of Arkansas.

DOMINION DAY SPORTS.

A Large List of Entries Received by Secretary Toole of the Rowing Club.

The Dominion Day Regatta which will be held by the Rowing Club next Tuesday, promises to eclipse all former years with its numbers of outside entries, and to present the biggest list of aquatic sports ever seen in Rat Portage. The first rowing event will be called for 2:30 p. m., and it is expected that the programme formidable though it is, will be concluded by about 6 o'clock, as the management intend to bring on the events without any waits between them. The list of entries received from Winnipeg are as follows:

Single Scull—S. E. Richards.
Double —C. S. Riley and F. H.
Bole.
Shell Four—W. A. Clements, H. P.
Carper, D. B. Sprague and T. S. Ewart.
stroke.
Lapstroke Fours—W. S. Newton, E.
C. Grundy, H. Bannatyne and R. Fortune, stroke.
No. 2—F. W. Pace, F. S. Denison, A. E. Fontenot, and H. V. Hudson, stroke.
No. 3—T. O. McKay, W. A. McKay, D. McDonald, and G. O. Kingsford, stroke.
No. 4—S. E. Richards, R. K. Beaufais, H. Trenholm, and F. R. Steele, stroke.

The local crews will be picked tomorrow.
In addition to the regatta there will be the biggest five brigade tournament ever held. The town, C. P. R. and B. P. Lumber Co. brigades have united, and beginning at nine in the morning there will be a grand parade of the combined brigades, finishing at the central fire hall, in front of which a programme of land sports, comprising in all thirty-six events, mostly free for all, will be carried out.

To finish up the day's celebration, there will be a grand concert, in the Hilliard opera house, at which Watkin Mills, the king of basso singers, will appear. The Rowing Club have engaged the two right hand boxes at the theatre for the accommodation of the visiting carmen. The proceeds of this concert are to be given to the Royal Jubilee Hospital, so that the sides turning out in full to entertain our visitors, the people may also perform a good work by patronizing this concert.

THE TORONTO STRIKE.

The suddenness of the Toronto street car strike: the alarming social explosion; the grim presence of the soldiery with their gleaming bayonets and bulging ammunition pouches creaking with the latent, death-dealing rifle cartridge, and the short, sharp struggle of a few hours; and then Peace—Industrial Peace—again, all enacted within the short space of three days, makes an episode in the world's history, which, generations hence, will be pointed to as the turning point in an economical warfare that had been waging for half a century.

Compared with previous history of such phrases in commercial evolution, the Toronto Street car strike appears as if a mount Pelée had been grasped by a Titan, and throttled as it was about to vomit forth an avalanche of molten lava. Toronto—nay, Canada, ought to feel proud of that street car strike, because it will teach the world several lessons—lessons in statesmanship and stateshood; lessons in industrial economics; lessons in civic government; and lessons to that most ignorant, wilfully blind body of men, known as capitalists. It is a triumph of the state over the anarchistic individual, who refused to listen to reason because it emanated from his employees, and over the anarchistic individual who smashed car windows, and indulged in other lawlessness. These two are in the same class, and represent Anarchy: while the Board of Trade and the street car union represent another class, viz: Order.

The presence of the military which in the past has already been commanded by the capitalist—at least in the United States, from whence the present generation of Canadians have

LAKE OF THE WOODS FISHING.

Now, the maskallonge, many-toothed ravager of the inland seas, has stirred from his long winter's idleness and is spreading death among the smaller fishes. Built for speed, with sharp nose and broad-flanged tail, from eye to tail-fork a mass of muscle overlaid with delicious flesh, with the appetite of the wolf that ranges the foodless snow, with cunning and patience unbounded, he is one of the most formidable finned things in the waters of the earth.

The instinct to slaughter is the maskallonge's marked characteristic, next a certain bulldog tenacity and grit. When after a fight of half an hour this monster exhausted is reeled in, until a foot of his head projects above water and hangs there until the guide on the boat sends a bullet through the malice countenance, his strong resemblance to the bulldog, his bulged and hating eyes and teeth, but no despair and a momentary photograph of maskallonge so held is worth a good deal.

The maskallonge inhabits the lake from June to September, and is found in the summer season in comparatively weak numbers. He is swift and powerful. Before May has half gone the plump maskallonge is fat and bold as ever.

There is little complaint of the maskallonge during these days of the year, but it is something monstrous. He is literally, from daylight to midnight, and for this reason is much hooked in the pool of spring. He is not so worth taking now as ten days later, but is competent to make a heavy fight.

The maskallonge is the principal homes of the maskallonge. Since homes ideally suited to the fish's needs. They are deep and clean and healthful, and re-fitted; especially around Lake of the Woods from civilization.

The maskallonge is comparatively few in number, but is vital to the fish's health. It is found in small numbers, but is vital to the fish's health. It is found in small numbers, but is vital to the fish's health.

repeatedly by men passing back and forth near the lair of an old timer. The fish may not notice the spoon for the first trip or two, but soon becomes angered by its glitter and the shadow of the boat and strikes it finally. Most often it will strike both upper and lower jaw firmly shut, hurling the metal 20 feet in the air.

Maskallonge have been taken which were literally crammed with fishes of various sizes and kinds, showing that they were not hungry. They have been known, too, to flash out from the edge of wild fire and gingerly nose a spoon. Finding nothing on it, they have retired for six feet and then hit it hard, evidencing their anger.

As this trick of nosing is a common thing most experienced maskallonge anglers advocating putting a large green frog upon the hook gang behind the spoon. Indeed some form of food, frog, minnow, or even salt pork, is always better than nothing. It will serve partly to congeal the hooks, if it does not tempt the appetite.

The fish sometimes noses the lure because it is cunning and for the same reason it will often take the bait without encountering the hooks. It has happened many times that with the spoon spinning and the boat travelling at four miles an hour a maskallonge has leaped ten feet, seized the frog just back of the neck and stripped it of skin and a portion of the flesh clear to the end of its hind legs. Maskallonge have been known to strike at tin cups dipped for a moment on the lake's surface and have struck copper-tipped bars many times.

The mouth is so armed with teeth and the teeth are so sharp that guides refuse generally to handle the fish at all until it is stone dead. It seems to be impossible to put the fish's anywhere near to the mouth of a live maskallonge without getting bit.

In July and August these teeth are about as a deer loses its horns, and do grow out again until the latter part of September.

During this intermingling for maskallonge is a waste of time. It does not bite because it has nothing to bite with, and it is sick and poor.

The manner of taking the maskallonge is distinctly unfair. It is most often trotted for, though some men prefer to be piddled slowly and to cast for it.

In any event as soon as a strike is made and the hooks are sent in deep the guide bends to his oars and heads for the middle of the lake. He keeps on rowing until the fish is exhausted or breaks away.

itself on the defense.

The 100,000 men, the writer concludes, would be in the necessity of meeting a crushingly superior force and of living on the land, a land which, even in peace, produces so little for they could not attempt to keep open their communications. Hence they would soon be driven to defend themselves.

In short, this foreign expert says that an attacking force would in the first place be repelled or partially c that even supposing the enemy did stroyed by the English navy, and that even supposing the enemy did effect a landing, he would be crushed by the land forces.

DR. CHASE'S BABY'S OWN TABLETS.

Cure All Minor Ills, and Bring Joy and Comfort to Baby and Mother.

Disease attacks the little ones through the digestive organs. Baby's Own Tablets are the best things in the world for all bowel and stomach troubles of children. They act quickly and gently, and always cure indigestion, colic, constipation and diarrhoea. They are a great help to teething children. Mrs. Gabrielle Barnes, Six Mile Lake, Ont., says: "Baby's Own Tablets reached me just in time as my baby was very ill with indigestion and bowel trouble, and I am happy to say that Baby's Own Tablets relieved him after a few doses. He is now doing splendidly with just a Tablet now and then when he is restless. I am the mother of eight children and have tried nearly all the old remedies but have never found a medicine equal to Baby's Own Tablets."

The Tablets are guaranteed to contain no opiate or harmful drug, and crushed to a powder they can be given to the smallest, feeblest child with a certainty of good results. Sold by all druggists, or sent post paid at 25 cents a box by writing direct to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y.

The bather sometimes finds the sand soft and yielding to his feet. It does not trouble him and he goes on until he sinks to his knees and discovers to his horror that he has to fight for his life in a quicksand.

Disease is much like the quicksand. The first symptoms of stomach trouble do not cause anxiety. But when the body grows weak through lack of nourishment and disease of the stomach breeds disease of heart, lungs, liver or kidneys, the sufferer realizes his danger and seeks for medicinal aid.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc., when these diseases have their origin in disease of the stomach and its allied organs.

Vegetable Caterpillar.

Among the many strange growths, apparently freaks of nature, which are to be found in New Zealand the vegetable caterpillar readily ranks among the foremost. This caterpillar is several inches in length, is hairless and does not differ essentially in appearance from some of the caterpillars of our own land.

Its claim to distinction lies in the fact that when it gets ready to die it digs a hole for itself in the earth and completely buries itself. Later a slender green shoot springs from the spot. This bears two or more leaves near its top.

Upon investigation it is found that the green shoot springs from the head of the dead caterpillar, and further investigation develops the fact that the body of the caterpillar is filled with roots.

The roots are retained without change, and the form does not pierce through the skin or enter the ground. When dug up, this dead yet living freak presents a most odd appearance, for the head and even the eyes of the caterpillar are distinctly seen, yet from the head is growing the green sprout, with its leaves.

Hard to Tell Chinaman's Age.

How old is a Chinaman? Can you give a good guess? It is harder to tell than the age of a negro. The Chinaman has no beard, and his hair is of a jet and glossy blackness, which turns gray only at an extreme age, when a Caucasian head would be either snow white or bald. Then again the Chinese have the most perfect nervous system of any people in the world and do not wrinkle up with age. They can stand any amount of opium smoking without material injury that would send a white man to his grave or an insane asylum. So you have little to go by. A Chinaman will look thirty when he is twenty and when he is fifty. If you ask him his age, he will place it at least ten years ahead, for he holds old age to be honorable, and among his people he will be respected and looked up to by all his juniors.

Heartburn.

The burning in the throat called popularly "heartburn" shows that acid fermentation is taking place. A good palliative is bicarbonate of soda. Of this one teaspoonful may be taken in a tumblerful of water. Repeat if the burning does not pass away. But blessed are they who can vomit, for this is the only scientific and natural means of cure. Indigestion always means that chemical changes have occurred by which products have been formed harmful to the system. Vomiting may be assisted by copious drafts of warm water, and these will wash out the stomach. A remedy that merely relieves pain does not effect this.

Cards in the Curriculum.

The custom of encouraging our children to perfect themselves in card games is by no means of modern growth. There must have been a substantial of truth in the following jesting paragraph, which is clipped from The Times of Nov. 2, 1797: "At some of our first boarding schools the pale pupils are now taught to play whist and cussing. Amongst their winning ways this may not be the least agreeable to

People Who Have Used It

Say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine affords wonderfully prompt relief for coughs and colds. Everybody has confidence in Dr. Chase, in his great repute book and famous family remedies. They have learned by experience that it pays to insist on having Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine instead of accepting the various unscientific "mix-ups" which some druggists offer as "just as good." Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine contains many of the most valuable and most effective remedial agents for throat and lung troubles that science has discovered. It acts so directly and promptly as to be of incalculable worth in all cases of croup, bronchitis and whooping cough. It is so far-reaching in its effects as to loosen the tightest chest cough and cure the cold of long standing. 25c a bottle; family size, three times as much. HEAT AND DISEASE.

THE SUN'S RAYS ARE FATAL TO MANY SPECIES OF GERMS.

As a Disinfectant Sunlight is the Greatest Agent in Nature—Temperatures at Which Disease Germs Are Destroyed.

Sunlight is fatal to some of the lower forms of living things, including certain disease germs which are the cause of some of the most fatal infectious diseases that afflict the human race.
In fact, the greatest disinfectant in nature is light, or, to be more exact, the radiations of the sun, including heat rays, light rays and the invisible rays at the violet end of the solar spectrum.

An infectious disease is one which may be contracted by the introduction into the living body of living disease germs, which may be contained in different kinds of infectious material.
Thus the disease germ (bacillus) which produces diphtheria is contained in the “exudate” or “false membrane” deposited in the throat or nasal passages of those suffering from this disease, and the material coughed up by a patient with diphtheria is infectious material. In cholera and in typhoid fever the discharges from the bowels contain the germ and are consequently infectious material.

Now, the object of disinfection is to prevent the extension of infectious diseases by destroying the specific infectious agents—germs—which give rise to them; and this is accomplished by the use of disinfectants. Having, as I hope, made this clear—

Any chemical agent which destroys or masks bad odors is commonly spoken of as a disinfectant, and there are a large number of so called “disinfectants” in the market which are simply deodor-ants and which are entirely untrustworthy for the destruction of infectious material—that is, material containing living disease germs.

These disease germs belong to the class of low vegetable organisms—microscopic plants—known as bacteria, which as a rule thrive better in the darkness than when exposed to daylight, and some of them are quickly destroyed by exposure to direct sunlight. In experiments made by me in 1893 it was demonstrated that the cholera bacillus is infallibly killed by ex-posure to direct sunlight for an hour or two, and the distinguished German bacteriologist, Dr. Robert Koch, has shown that the bacillus of consumption —tubercle bacillus—is destroyed by similar exposure in a time varying from a few minutes to several hours, depending upon the thickness of the layer of material in which it is imbedded.

As a result of this it is evident that the material coughed up by patients with consumption and containing tubercle bacilli in vast numbers is far less dangerous to the community in regions where the patient can live out of doors and where the sun shines nearly every day in the year.

Some disease germs which are not killed outright by exposure to the sun's rays are greatly restrained in their development. This is true of the bacillus of typhoid fever. Although it has been shown by carefully conducted experiments that certain disease germs are promptly destroyed by the luminous ra-

Lost by a Toy Balloon.

Diamonds and other jewels have been lost in all sorts of queer ways, but in none more unusual than the accident mentioned in the Boston Transcript, by which a diamond brooch was snatched from the owner's dress and left somewhere on the great plains.

A young woman was travelling by rail through Kansas. At Kinsley, where the train made a considerable stop, a fair was in progress. Here the young woman bought of a peddler a toy balloon for a little girl who had won her fancy.

The child was delighted with the plaything, and as they rode along she chatted with her new friend and pulled the balloon up and down. At length she playfully fastened the string to the lady's diamond brooch.

The train was rounding a curve at the moment, and a strong gust of air came through the car. The balloon was carried out through the open window.
The sudden jerk on the string loosened the brooch, and away it sailed.

The jewel was so valuable that the young woman offered a reward of $500 for its recovery. Spurred by this incentive, cowboys scoured the plains for days in all directions, but without success.

Poor Choice Either Way.

“When passing through a certain section of a certain state once,” said a man who has traveled much, “a friend and I stopped at the house of a neighbor for tea. Soon after we had sat down at the table the housekeeper looked toward us and asked whether we wanted long or short sweetening in our coffee. As she asked that question I looked toward my friend, and he looked at me. I nudged him in the side, meaning that I wanted him to speak.
He said he would take long sweetening.
With that she put her finger in a cup of molasses, put the same finger in his coffee and stirred. That was long sweetening.

“Then she asked me what I wanted, and I said immediately, ‘Short.’ So she put her finger in another cup, took out something that resembled maple sugar, put it between her teeth and bit it in two parts. One part went into my cup and the other into hers. It seemed to be a case of no matter which sweeten-ing you tried you'd wish you had taken the other.”

Full of Snap.

Gretchen, the daughter of an old German named Kruegel, had been serving as domestic about two weeks in the household of Judge Vaughan of Richmond, when father and employer met on the village street.

“Well, yoodge,” said Kruegel, “how you like dot Gretchen by dis dime al-retty?”

“Like her?” returned the Judge in his blunt way. “Why, she's just great!
We never had any one in the house in her line that entered into work with so much spirit. She's full of snap all the time.”

Kruegel turned pondering away, and, meeting his frau at his home portal, he sorrowfully said: “Teresa, something must goe wrong mit dot Gretchen. I roost dit meetet Yoodge Vorgan, und he saidt dot she vas full of schnapps al de dime.”

Malay Weapons.

The national Malay weapon, the creese, is said to have been invented by a Japanese monarch of the fourteenth century. Its varieties are said to exceed a hundred, and there are in Java no fewer than fifty names for them. It varies in size, from the two foot wavy blade of Solu down to a mere toothpick. But the peculiarity is that the weapon is never ground, but kept rough and sawlike in edge by scouring with lime juice or the juice of an orange pineapple, sometimes mixed with arsenic, and it is on this account that creese wounds are so dangerous.

Old specimens are so eaten away by this practice that the blade seems formed from a bunch of wires roughly welded up. Such creeses are highly valued, and some of the ancient ones belooms of chiefs, with grotesquely carved and inlaid hilts and sheaths, are almost unobtainable.

Hard to Get an Opinion.

I have always wanted to know what disorder the medical world considers most painful, so I asked a prominent physician in Fourteenth street about it. "Without doubt," said he, "an abscess of the ear inflicts the most excruciating agony a human being is ever compelled to endure."

I went over to Thirteenth street and asked a physician there the same question, telling him what the Fourteenth street man had said. Two other doctors happened to be in the room. The Thirteenth street man grinned.

"And I'll say that," said he. "Well, I dare say he thinks he's right. I remember he had an abscess in his own ear once. From experience in my own practice, however, I should say that, while other things may last longer, the most intense pain any one ever endures is caused by an attack of acute indigestion."

He looked at the other medical men for confirmation of his opinion. One of them leaned forward earnestly.

"What did you take for it," he asked, and the Thirteenth street man merely smiled.

Paine's Celery Compound

DR. PHELPS' WONDER - WORKING MEDICINE PRESCRIPTION.

Paine's Celery Compound is the world's great leading medicine and the only one that is equal for feeding the exhausted nerves. It stands first as a builder of the weak and shattered nervous system.

Paine's Celery Compound has long been proved its power as a banisher of dyspepsia, rheumatism, neuralgia, indigestion, liver complaint, and as a purifier of the blood. Thousands of men and women, tired, sleepless, nervous, infirm and despondent have been given perfect health, strength and buoyancy of spirit through the well advised use of Paine's Celery Compound. It has given a new lease of life to a vast number of people who were tired of life and suffering.

If your health is impaired, if you are burdened with any weakness or painful malady, use Paine's Celery Compound today. It is specially adapted for your case. It will make you well and strong. Mr. H. B. Chatfield, Ont. says:

"I was for several years in a bad way, tired, nervous, and I was obliged to take to my bed, where I lay four months. The doctor here and in Toronto said my trouble was Addison's disease of the kidneys, and told me I could never walk again. In November I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound. After having used a number of bottles I was enabled to attend to business, and in a few days I can affirm with confidence that Paine's Celery Compound saved my life."

Where Theft Is Not Hobby.

In China theft is so common that no body notices it. A young Chinaman once slipped three oranges up his sleeve at a party. While making his bow at parting the oranges slipped out and rolled on to the floor. He accounted for the awkward event by saying that his mother was very fond of oranges. His fault was straightway overlooked, and he was afterward held up as an instance of filial piety. There are several proverbs which go to show that the folk think lightly of stealing. One says that "when tailors cease to pilfer cloth their children will have to go without food," and another declares, "When silversmiths do not steal, they will certainly starve."

The Trifling Brother.

"Br'er Jenkins, you so triflin' dat I vely believes ef you wuz 'pluted ter be watchman at de pearly gates de fust t'ing you'd do would be ter let down en go fas' asleep."

"Br'er Thomas, you may well say dat, kaze I'd sho' feel so good over de 'plutment I'd des nagebly batter go ter sleep ter dream ef it wuz true."

Discovered.

A story is told of a little girl who asked one morning at the breakfast table, "Mamma, is hash animal or vegetable?"

"Animal, my dear," replied mamma.

"Then," cried the little one triumphantly, holding up a tiny bone, "here's de hash's tooth!"

A Ready Reply.

Foot's ready reply to the caution, "Your handkerchief, sir, is hanging out of your pocket," was of high merit both from the surprise and for the cordial way in which the caution was accepted—"Thank you, sir; you know the company better than I do."

No Reason For Delay.

"My darling," he exclaimed, "I would go to the end of the earth for you." There was a slight pause while the orchestra played tremulous ragtime.

"Suppose," she said, "you begin your travels now."

The Messenger Boy.

"Why is it that one can never get a bright, reliable and speedy messenger?"

"De company don't pay dat kind of wages, ma'am."

It is never right to say what one does not mean, but why not mean the nice things? Insincerity does not necessarily follow in the wake of politeness.

It will do you more good to acknowledge your faults than it will do you enemies.—Archibald Glad.

compelled to endure.

I went over to Thirteenth street and asked a physician there the same question, telling him what the Fourteenth street man had said. Two other doctors happened to be in the room. The Thirteenth street man grinned.

"Did Dr. G. say that?" said he.

"Well, I dare say he thinks he's right. I remember he had an abscess in his own ear once. From experience in my own practice, however, I should say that, while other things may last longer, the most intense pain any one ever endures is caused by an attack of acute indigestion."

He looked at the other medical men for confirmation of his opinion. One of them leaned forward earnestly.

"What did you take for it?" he asked, and the Thirteenth street man merely blushed.

Crowing In Lent.

"During the season of Lent," says the London Chronicle, "it was anciently the custom of the watchmen to crow the hour of the night instead of shouting it, the intention being doubtless to remind sleepless sinners of the effect the third crowing of the cock had on St. Peter. This custom, too, was observed at the royal court, an officer known as 'the king's cock crower' performing the duty within the precincts of the palace."

"On the first Ash Wednesday after the accession of the house of Hanover, as the then Prince of Wales, afterward George III., was at supper, this officer entered and crowed 'past 10 o'clock.' The astonished prince mistook the crow for an insult and rose to resent it, but was made to understand with some difficulty that the custom was in accordance with court etiquette. The custom was from that time discontinued."

His Lucrative Business.

"Wanted—For a lucrative business, a partner who must be a practical locksmith." This advertisement appeared in a fundapest paper recently. The advertiser is now in jail, the police having discovered that the lucrative business referred to was burglary.

Smaller Child.

"You never saw my hands as dirty as yours," said a mother to her little girl.

"No, but grandmother did," was the reply.—Motherhood.
